

Anuroop Chaudhury's New Song of 2022 Gets Featured in a Marathi Film, Rehan

Pune, Maharashtra Apr 13, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Anuroop's very first single song released this year, Aye Meri Zindagi, has been featured in a Marathi Film, Rehan.

The song is already released on all top known music stores like Spotify, iTunes, and Amazon Music, while the film will be released on the 14th of May this year produced by Yashopes Films.

This is the first time one of Anuroop's songs has been taken in a movie and he marks it as a matter of great achievement in his music career.

The song features a guy disappointed with life, But as the song progresses, he converts it into an inspiring and successful ending.

Anuroop, despite being an IT engineer by profession, manages to handle his music career in parallel. What's more interesting about him is that he features himself as a one-man army from writing the song, to making its music, to singing, recording and mixing it and planning for a video shoot for the song, and at last giving it a final mix.

Anuroop comes from a family where music was considered a culture at home. His mom used to practice music and also make him do it too. He was sent to Prayaag Sangeet Samiti (Bhaatkhande) to learn Hindustani Classical Music in Vocals at the age of 6 and completed Prabhakar from there. During this tenure, he participated in many competitions, stage shows, and programs and won many prizes for live performances for vocals. He used to get many applauds for it but whenever he used to listen to professionally recorded Bollywood songs, his mind used to boggle on how they sounded so silky and fine. This grew up his interest in piano and DAW-based music production. He then started learning piano from the ABRSM Board of Music and producing music at the same time.

He explains that “the creative process starts when you are fiddling with your piano or you are playing your guitar or riding your bike in leisure in a happy mood and suddenly some tune clicks your head. Then you jazz it more on your keyboard and develop it more and think of some words. I always keep a recorder handy and keep recording them all in it whatever tune or words come to my mind.”

“Once the song is composed, it's time to open my laptop and put all the music, and tunes into my DAW and build up its music track. I want to tell you that making a music track is just like cooking food, you add a little bit of Haldi, jeera, and dhaniya to the mixture. Making music is also the same thing. You add small sound effects, some background arpeggios, and tones to beautify your music once the main chassis of the song is created.

The more you jazz the more number of tunes come to your head.

Going forward, Anuroop plans to take his Youtube channel and his record label AnuroopMusic both to a bigger level and wants to get recognized by good people in the industry. He has also started working on video-making skills utilizing to make music videos of his songs and travel videos on Instagram all on his own.
