

Christy Hall of Mad Tree Woodcrafts & Engraving accepted into Forbes Business Council

Forbes Business Council Is an Invitation-Only Community for Successful Business Owners and Leaders

Atlanta, Georgia Apr 15, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Christy Hall, Co-Owner of Mad Tree Woodcrafts, a woodworking company that creates and engraves keepsake boxes, with locations in Columbus, Ohio, and Atlanta, Georgia, has been accepted into the Forbes Business Council, the foremost growth and networking organization for successful business owners and leaders worldwide.

Christy was vetted and selected by a review committee based on the depth and diversity of her experience. Criteria for acceptance include a track record of successfully impacting business growth metrics, as well as personal and professional achievements and honors.

“We are honored to welcome Christy into the community,” said Scott Gerber, founder of Forbes Councils, the collective that includes the Forbes Business Council. “Our mission with Forbes Councils is to bring together proven leaders from every industry, creating a curated, social capital-driven network that helps every member grow professionally and make an even greater impact on the business world.”

As an accepted member of the Council, Christy has access to a variety of exclusive opportunities designed to help her to reach peak professional influence. She will connect and collaborate with other respected local leaders in a private forum and at members-only events. Christy will also be invited to work with a professional editorial team to share her expert insights in original business articles on Forbes.com and to contribute to published Q&A panels alongside other experts.

Finally, Christy will benefit from exclusive access to vetted business service partners, membership-branded marketing collateral, and the high-touch support of the Forbes Councils member concierge team.

“I am so excited about joining the Forbes Business Council community and I am certain that my participation will help me and my organization further cement a leading edge in our industry,” said Christy.
