

Greenlync launches the first social media platform and marketplace for cannabis enthusiasts.

Oakland, California Apr 19, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Buzzlync Inc. is pleased to announce the launch of Greenlync, a social media platform for cannabis enthusiasts and businesses. Where you can find new friends, engage with people with similar passions, create, discover, ask questions, get answers, share and have fun together.

It is an exciting time in the cannabis industry and understanding the current and potential applications of cannabis can help folks break away from the stigma surrounding it. Although cannabis is going mainstream, content, and advertising related to cannabis are still hunted down and either shadow-banned or outright censored by the big social media giants.

“Progress is impossible to achieve without interaction and communication and someone had to start the discussion. At Buzzlync, we took it upon ourselves to do just that! We’ve developed the first “cannabis-friendly” social media platform called Greenlync, where we want to give people the power to build a cannabis-friendly community.” said Asad Shah, the founder, and CTO of Greenlync.

About the Greenlync App –

So, what is Greenlync? Take a pinch of Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, TikTok, and Tinder; blend them with a bit of Leafly and Weedmaps, and then roll them into one awesome joint which gives you the best buzz ever! That’s Greenlync! But unlike a lot of those other big social media companies, we won’t shadow-ban or kick you off our platform for talking about cannabis because that’s exactly what we want you to do! On Greenlync, you can do all the cool things that the other big social media companies don't let you. Connect with cannabis connoisseurs, creatives, musicians, artists, athletes, brands, retailers, MMJ Doctors, influencers, and advertisers all in one hub. Create, compete, share and engage with each other and find favorite products, brands, and much more!
