Award-winning Technology Transforming the Way the World Learns

Learnie, a community microlearning platform making learning accessible and approachable to all, announces the release of its subscription revenue product, Learnie Pay$, available on iOS, Android, and the web.

“Learnie Pay$ is the best option for the content creator that wants to create a learning community for their clients or followers,” said Pete Mastin, CEO of Learnie. “Whether you’re a physical therapist, a sales leader, or a juggler that wants to make money off of your expertise – Learnie Pay$ is the best option on the market today.”

Learnie Pay$ caters to distracted and diskless learners. Where most learning platforms are boring, top-down, and lack context, LearniePay$ makes it just as easy to create and consume content as any social media app. Learnie Pay$ also invites the community to share their knowledge-producing mind-bending engagement and retention.

“We’re helping experts bring learners together in a community setting to encourage participation, hone critical thinking capability and help everyone reach their maximum potential,” said Michael LeFort, Head of Impact.
