Park City, Utah Apr 21, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Learnie Releases Ukrainian Language App Version

Supporting relief efforts with free, private microlearning communities

Learnie, a community-driven microlearning platform making learning accessible and approachable to all announces today that it's releasing a Ukrainian language version of its Community Microlearning platform to support humanitarian groups involved in the Ukrainian relief effort.

Pete Mastin, the CEO, stated "We have added Ukrainian language into our mobile app Learnie and are giving it away for free to any organization working with displaced Ukrainian communities. Please communicate this to anyone you know that's working with Aid organizations to help people. This is a Mobile Community Microlearning platform that is specifically designed to help people learn what they need to know to succeed. Everyone can create content with a smartphone."

"Learnie has targeted underserved communities with its multi-language approach from the beginning. When Russia invaded Ukraine, we realized Learnie was a natural fit to help these displaced communities – so we rapidly accelerated the inclusion of Ukrainian in the app," Michael LeFort, Learnie's Head of Impact said.

"What's most exciting about this is that we are offering our Enterprise grade service to non-profits that are aiding refugees," continued LeFort.

This can be anything from helping to find jobs, food, shelter or loved ones. As a certified B-Corp it's actually part of our mission and we cannot think of a better use of the tool than helping people that have been displaced by war. Learnie is asking for any Ukrainian aid organizations to reach out to us at the contact below. Learnie will set up private cohorts/communities that will allow learners and users to get critical information about the new communities that they are finding themselves a part of.
