

Mr. J's New Music video 'Get Up Lyric Video' is in The Process of Capturing The Heart of The Audience

Unique musical prowess from hip-hop artist Mr. J in the track “Get Up Lyric Video” has brilliantly presented the 1980s classical side of the musical genre.

New York City, New York Apr 19, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Hip-hop artist Mr. J's new music video “Get Up Lyric Video” is breaking some records on YouTube. With this song, the experienced artist has brought back that Classical Cool style of rapping heard mainly in the early 1980s. Even the animated lyric video represents the youthfulness of the culture at that time. The artist's latest song highlights the style of those hip-hop pioneers who vocally imitated 1970s radio disc-jockeys with a smooth and cool delivery like: The chief rocker Frankie Crocker and Jocko Henderson. With this release, Mr. J represents the true classical essence of hip-hop. He endeavors to share and revive some of the genuine fun and lightheartedness found only with pioneers and the first class of hip-hop, which he refers to as the greatest youth movement ever.

The artist's talent of being a real emcee can be witnessed well with the latest song. It is clear that the artist has love for the entire culture. His first release “HIP HOP GERITOL” was a tribute to the B-boy community and an acknowledgment of Afrika Bambaataa & Soul Sonic force electro / techno musical prowess. For the “GET UP “ song, the artist was influenced by artist like: Eddie Cheeba, Kool Kyle the starchild, T-ski valley, Jimmy Spicer, Dr. Jeckyll & Mr. Hyde to name a few. With the latest release, the artist is reviving the true classical essence of hip-hop for those who were between 13 and 25 in 1980, or between age 55 and 67 now.

The latest release “Get Up Lyric Video” has been a massive hit as the music video has already racked up more than 55k views. Inspired by the likes of Eddie Cheeba, Jimmy Spicer, and Kool Kyle, the music industry can't wait for the artist's upcoming release "Friday Night" in August.
