

New Digital Marketing Company Opens in Downtown Bowling Green, KY.

For Immediate Release

Bowling Green, Kentucky Apr 27, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - A new digital marketing agency is now open in the Bowling Green area. Bowling Green Marketing Agency services include website design, search engine optimization (SEO), social media management and advertising, e-mail campaigns, graphic design, directory listings, content writing, and pay-per-click marketing.

"We want to boost business in the community and bring Bowling Green business owners a complete platform of digital marketing services," says Evelyn Miller, Bowling Green Marketing Agency CEO. "Digital marketing has become more elaborate. It's important to stay ahead of the curve and leverage technology while being completely transparent in today's digital market. Methods that businesses use to promote and advertise have changed over the years," says Miller.

Based in Bowling Green, Kentucky, the agency offers a complete digital eco-system to its clients so that business owners can see what's going on with their campaigns, analytics, leads and so much more, all from within their very own dashboard.

"It's our mission at Bowling Green Marketing Agency to produce ROI, strategy, and results." Says Miller. "We understand our client's needs. We're continuously improving so that the results continue to scale alongside our client's business. Because a digital marketing company can have many different avenues, we offer transparent and real-time reporting to our clients on any device, anywhere, at any time."

"Bowling Green Marketing Agency seeks to solve many of the marketing problems facing Bowling Green business owners," explains Miller. "Our goal is to optimize and monetize marketing efforts and create stronger branding, so clients get more engagement, traffic, and more ROI," Though U.S.-based, Bowling Green Marketing Agency's business model and technology allow the company to serve clients worldwide while growing in the Bowling Green Community. "We literally can offer same-day quality websites with optimized content for over 200 industries.

Bowling Green Marketing Agency has partnered with the Bowling Green Area Chamber of Commerce to hold a ribbon-cutting ceremony in May, 2022 for the new downtown location. The public is invited to celebrate the occasion.
