Vadodara, Gujarat Apr 12, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Sharda Steel Equipment has launched its new advanced bulk cooking range called Maestroo. This range has Tilting Skillets and Static Skillets which are made from quality stainless steel grade 304. This range has amazing features which provide a convenient solution for commercial bulk cooking.

The idea behind the "Maestroo" range:

The motto is to bring reliable and cost-effective solutions to the Indian market. They have been serving in the food industry since 2003 as a manufacturer of commercial kitchen equipment. With their years of keen observation of clients' requirements and the problems they are facing with bulk cooking equipment, they launched their new bulk cooking range called "Maestroo" in 2021.

Considering the product cost and efficiency of the product to deliver a desirable cooking experience, they bring convincing unique features to the product. This semi-automatic product surely reduces your equipment's running & maintenance costs. It has a perfect finished attractive design. They are enthusiastically working with their R & D team to bring new featured products like this in the future.

Maestroo range is now available for retail bulk purchase across India. You can book a single unit product also by contacting them through mail or call.
