

Wasted Dodo Club: The Next Big Thing in NFT Space?

Saarbrücken, Saarland Apr 22, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - 2022 is the year where we are expecting the release of most of the major NFTs. Nobody knows what will happen in 2023, or even in August 2022, but one thing is for sure, this is the high time for all NFT-based projects.

While many NFT projects such as BYAC, and Azuki have already gained a lot of popularity among NFT investors, new investors are coming into this market every day, and a lot of them are willing to pay attention to new NFT releases.

Wasted Dodo Club is one NFT project which has the potential to grab a huge market in the NFT space. One big reason behind this is their eye-catching roadmap.

On the website (<https://wasted-dodo.com/>) one can see the description:

It is the nest of the 8000 unique dodos, unfortunately, they were a bit wasted from yesterday's party and were lost during their trip to the island of Malibu.

Please help your favorite Dodos to lead it back home before winter ends!

It is a clear indication that the Wasted Dodo project will move beyond the NFT space. It is still not clear whether the project will have any game in Metaverse.

Though the website also has the information:

A significant amount will be allocated to developing the Dodo's Nest: The Malibu in Metaverse, as well as buying lands. As the project grows, more budget will be allocated for this purpose.

Besides, the campaign has promised different events in Metaverse, and the winners can win prizes (AR/VR sets, PS5, Xbox Series X, and NFTs)

Another reason why Wasted Dodo can gain huge popularity is the influencer team behind them. As a text from Zakwolf, the CEO, "...powerful NFT influencers such as Kevin Macri and Yao Cabrera have already expressed their will to be long-term partners."

But the two most interesting things about the project are:

- Wasted Dodo is probably the first NFT project to have events in metaverse which can be hosted by any Wasted Dodo NFT holder for free.
- It is one of the few projects which will allow any artist to create art and sell it on their platform in marketplaces such as Opensea and Rarible.

Time will tell how much impact Wasted Dodo makes, but one thing is for sure, they are up for a good start.
