Vancouver, British Columbia May 24, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - As a part of their mutual agreement, the United States and Canada decided to start a Visa Waiver Programme for the Visa-exempt countries to visit Canada. Citizens who wish to visit Canada travel to the country by simply applying for the Electronic Travel Authorization Document, which is commonly known as eTA Canada. The document makes you eligible to travel in the country for tourism, transit, and trade purposes. It is the most important document that you need to stay in the country.

The validity period for Canada eTA is five years. However, the validity period is different from the number of days you are eligible for staying in the country. You cannot exceed 6 months. You must check that your visa would not expire till the time you stay in the country.
