

Argentine Nationals Can Now Visit New Zealand with the help of Veteran Agency new-zealand-visa

Auckland, New Zealand May 30, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Recently, there has been a new interest from Latin American countries in visiting New Zealand, with Argentina leading the chase. Well, Argentine nationals hoping for a brief or even long vacation to New Zealand can go for the services of the reputed agency new-zealand-visa. With the option of accommodating for up to 90 days, the agency has made the visa issuing process for Argentinean citizens even easier. Since 2019, the Immigration Authority of New Zealand has made New Zealand Electronic travel Authority (NZeTA) a must-needed document for every citizen from every country to visit New Zealand. As Argentina was a launch member of the NZ eTA program, citizens of Argentina can enjoy fast entry using the same. The document is valid for arrival by air and cruise ship.

The best chances of getting your visa approved will heavily depend on the validity of your passport. While visiting the country, Argentine nationals are recommended to have their passport validity at least three months past the expected departure date. The benefit of having your visa delivered without visiting any embassies is now possible with a New-Zealand visa. The New Zealand visa for Argentina Citizens brought by this agency comprises an online application form. The form asks every applicant to provide their details such as name, email address, passport details, etc. After completing the form fill-up, applicants are required to pay the fee for the NZeTA. A debit card, credit card, or even a PayPal account will get the job done for them.

All Argentine applicants must note that they have to double-check all the details provided while submitting the form. The applicants can expect their visa to be electronically delivered to their provided e-mail address within a few days. Argentinean citizens can only visit New Zealand for 6 months in a 12-month period on an NZ eTA. The visa to New Zealand is valid for multiple entries during the period of its validity. Applicants must also note that they will have to be above 18 years of age to apply for the visa.
