

Elia Creo the international lawyer is back

Pescara, Abruzzo May 20, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Elia Creo, the international lawyer, known for being selected among the best Italian lawyers in 2017, will leave private practice to devote himself to social issues.

Creo will finance a unique, experimental and solidarity project worth 50 million dollars with a duration of 3 years, in favor of disadvantaged people that will involve the United States, Europe and the United Arab Emirates with the involvement of over 30 international lawyers.

A bridge between criminal and civil law, which will unite 3 different continents for the first time.

All strictly pro bono. The maxi law firm will be based in Miami, Frankfurt and Dubai, more information will be released in the next few days.
