Get to know Physical Therapist Dr. Eric Steadman, who serves patients in Utah.

New York City, New York May 24, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - An excellent physical therapist, Dr. Steadman currently practices with his private practice, EJS Physical Therapy in Utah. He mostly works in the home health setting focusing on fall prevention therapy, vestibular rehab, pain management, and post-op recovery.

Throughout his academic career, Dr. Steadman graduated cum laude with his Bachelor of Science degree in Health Education and Promotion from Utah State University in 2017 and earned his Doctor of Physical Therapy degree from The University of Texas Medical Branch School of Health Professionals in 2020.

Physical therapy (PT), also known as physiotherapy, is one of the allied health professions that, by using evidence-based kinesiology, electrotherapy, shockwave modality, exercise prescription, joint mobilization, and health education, treats conditions such as chronic or acute pain, soft tissue injuries, cartilage damage, arthritis, gait disorders, and physical impairments typically of musculoskeletal, cardiopulmonary, neurological, and endocrinological origins. Physical therapy is used to improve a patient's physical functions through physical examination, diagnosis, prognosis, physical intervention, rehabilitation, and patient education. It is practiced by physical therapists (known as physiotherapists in many countries).

Happily married, Dr. Steadman and his wife, Michelle, have three amazing children.
