We make sure that all your needs are met. Receive the care you need in the comfort of your home. Some of the many quality services we offer are companionship, dementia care, respite care, and post-surgical care.

Companionship

Seniors do not only need a caregiver who will take care of them and assist them with daily living. One important aspect of home care is companionship care. With this type of care, clients get someone not only to keep them company but also to be their confidant, a person to talk to. This gives them emotional and social support.

With our companionship care, we ensure that clients won't feel isolated and lonely. Aside from providing companionship, this type of care also includes running errands, meal preparation, grocery shopping, medication reminders, picking up prescriptions, and light housekeeping.

Dementia Care

There are different types of dementia. Each type has a different progression and different symptoms. Dementia affects people differently. This is why, at Ivory Home Care, we tailor our dementia care services according to the unique circumstances and needs of each client.

Our qualified dementia caregivers are familiar with the different types of dementia and are experienced with responding to each type of dementia. Not only are our caregivers certified and trained in managing symptoms of dementia. More importantly, they care in a compassionate and kind manner, always putting importance on the welfare of the client.

Respite Care

Family caregivers deserve a break too. This is where we can also step in. With our respite care service, we take care of caregiving duties while family caregivers are taking a break to recharge, refresh and care for themselves as well.

We see to it that the client is well-taken care of. We treat them like family. Our services include medication reminders, light housekeeping, meal preparation, laundry, and assistance with personal care.

Our respite care services are designed to fill in caregiving duties temporarily while family caregivers are away. You can also schedule weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly respite care, depending on your needs.

Post-Surgical Care

After surgery, patients still need care even after being released from the hospital. We offer post-surgical care to ensure that people who have recently undergone surgery can continue receiving care at home. We make sure that all their needs are taken care of in order to assist them in their fast, safe and comfortable recovery.

Our post-operative care includes prescription pickup, transportation to post-op appointments, medication reminders, meal planning, and meal preparation. Our caregivers are also authorized to communicate with your healthcare providers to keep track of your post-op appointments. Our aim is to help you safely recover at the soonest time possible.

Overall, all our services are designed to help seniors and individuals needing specific types of care live as independently as possible. We see to it that they can live comfortably and safely. Whether they are recovering from an illness or injury, managing chronic health problems, needing post-op care, or simply companionship, we got you covered.
