Console Quality Graphics

The PV shows numerous resplendent outfits, ranging from a lightweight sheer dress with pearls, and cyberpunk streetwear, to classic clothes, and they, are just like real clothes. What incredible resolution the graphics have!

The texture of the outfits shown in the PV reacts to different lighting conditions. For example, the pearls in dresses make a soft light, while gauze shimmers and metal accessories shine glaringly. When you zoom in, you can even see the stitches of dresses, which are close to reality.

Realistic Fabric

Thanks to Multiple UV Channels and Detail Texture, the game boasts high-resolution outfits. Shader makes fabrics highly detailed and realistic. No matter how intricate the patterns are, they all can be shown vividly in the game.

Apart from delicate embroideries and texture, there are fluffy outfits, which are hardly seen in other games. You can feel the textural difference in the mohair outfit.

Apart from exquisite outfits, Life Makeover focuses on models. Screen Space Subsurface Scattering makes skins natural and translucent. Even tiny blood vessels can be seen under the skins.

With diffuse reflection, reflection, and transmission, hair is realistic and shining regardless of its color and style. Even in a backlight, you can see the halo in fluffy hair, which used to be only viewable in the real world. Players can also dye different sections of their hair to embrace different styles.
