

Serena Scott, LPN, a Licensed Practical Nurse with New Horizon Counseling Center

Get to know Licensed Practical Nurse, Serena Scott, who serves patients in Islip Terrace, New York.

New York City, New York May 4, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Serena is a licensed practical nurse currently affiliated with New Horizon Counseling Center in Islip Terrace, New York.

Pertaining to her educational background, she graduated with her nursing degree from Hunter Business College in 2021, where she made the Dean's List every semester.

To stay up to date in her field, Serena is a member of the National Technical Honor Society.

On a more personal note, she attributes her success to her aunt who was always a big influencer in her to have a career in nursing.

A Licensed Practical Nurse (LPN) is on the front line of nursing, interacting directly with patients on a daily basis. They work under the supervision of doctors and RNs, performing duties such as taking vital signs, collecting lab specimens, administering medication, ensuring patient comfort, performing skills like trach care, foley care, ostomy care, wound care, G- tube care I.V. care, and reporting the status of their patients to their case managers.

LPNs are generally hired in settings such as doctors' offices, hospitals, nursing homes, home health environments, and rehabilitation centers. They must be skilled in balancing care for patients, performing skilled tasks, and completing practical daily administrative duties.

Learn More about Serena Scott:

Through her online profile, <https://todaysnurse.org/network/index.php?do=/4148597/info/>

Media Contact

Your Health Contact

clientservice@yourhealthcontact.com

Source : Serena Scott, LPN

See on IssueWire

