Get to know Orthodontist Dr. Alyssa Emory-Carter, who serves patients throughout the State of Texas.

New York City, New York Oct 17, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - An exceptional orthodontist, Dr. Emory-Carter tends to patients in her hometown communities at her private practice - Stokes & Carter Orthodontics. She serves patients in Sherman and Bonham, Texas, and surrounding areas.

"I started my own orthodontic journey as a child with Dr. Bill Robinson, who originally owned and started the practice I am a part of now. It is really amazing to be able to come full circle and join the same practice and have that opportunity to serve the community that helped me become the person I am" expressed the doctor.

Dr. Emory-Carter attended Oklahoma State University and within three years earned a Bachelor of Science in Physiology and Biology and a minor in General Business. She completed her Doctor of Dental Surgery from Texas A&M Baylor College of Dentistry. Alongside completing her DDS, she earned a Certificate in Healthcare Education from Texas A&M Health Science Center. Dr. Carter completed her orthodontic residency at the University of Florida College of Dentistry where she received her Certificate in Orthodontics and Master of Science in Dental Sciences and was nominated by her peers and faculty for her leadership, service, and optimism to serve as chief resident. Throughout her educational journey, she earned numerous leadership and academic awards, including the AAO Charley Schultz Resident Scholar Award. Her research efforts were published in the Public Library of Sciences journal.

Dr. Emory-Carter has been noted for her commitment to excellence in, and radiant positivity about the future of the orthodontic profession. Dr. Carter appreciates product and software advancements and has been selected to participate in clinical and FDA trials for innovative orthodontic products. She currently serves as a Key Opinion Leader for Dental Monitoring, Spark, and On Demand Orthodontist and speaks on clinical excellence and business insights nationally and internationally. She has also been featured on multiple podcasts and has contributed to multiple articles.

Dr. Emory-Carter recognizes various characteristics of malocclusions and dentofacial deformity, defines the nature of the problem, including the etiology, and designs a treatment strategy based on the specific needs and desires of the patient. She continues to play a role in bridging the relationship between the medical and dental professions by diagnosing underlying etiologies, such as sleep apnea and temporomandibular disorder (TMD) in children and adults.

In addition to her educational accomplishments and experiences, Dr. Emory-Carter places emphasis on community involvement. She frequently engages in local events and enjoys the many benefits of small towns and close-knit communities. She truly believes in the constant pursuit of growth, both personally and professionally, to better the lives of her patients, team, community, and the orthodontic and dental profession as a whole.
