Some advice for Private Chefs:

More and more clients these days are now requesting Chefs that have more extensive knowledge of Healthy food options, such as Vegan, Vegetarian low-fat cuisines, etc.

We, therefore, highly recommend that private chefs take some of these types of courses to widen their repertoire and to be more competitive in the current job market:

- Plant-based cuisine
- Holistic Nutrition & Wellness
- Heart Healthy cooking
- Sugar Detox and Healthy Eating
- Sugar-free desserts, Gluten-Free desserts
- Nutritional courses to increase their repertoire to include Nutritional and Healthy foods
