

From Prescription to Packaging to Delivery

Homeopathy medicines now home delivered for patients and patients of partner homeopathy doctors.

Thane, Maharashtra Jun 16, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - www.homeopathy4all is pioneering online consultation and customised homeopathic medicine delivery for patients and doctors. The health tech startup is led by Dr. Medha Durge, who has 32 years of practice in Homeopathy.

Unlike allopathic medicines, most Homeopathic medicines require a careful mixing of various ingredients in the right proportions. It is a specialised skill and requires experience and importantly is an investment for doctors.

Homeopathy4all has been consulting patients not just at the clinic in Thane, but also through Whatsapp and Phone calls. If the patient is not required to visit the clinic for further enquiry, the medicines are delivered to the patient's home.

Dr. Medha Durge said, "We have patients from Germany, the US, and the UK too, and we have been sending them their customised medicines for years now.

During the pandemic period, we realised many doctors were struggling with getting raw materials for making the medicines and then there was the packaging problem and on-time delivery issues. That is when my team and I decided to extend our Prescription to Packaging to Delivery services to all Homeopathy Doctors. In less than 3 months of the launch of our service for Doctors, we have received tremendous response and now we plan to extend this service to Doctors from other regions too."

Homeopathy4all provides a customised web/mobile platform for doctors to register, upload the prescription and make payments. The experienced team at Homeopathy4all then makes the medicines as per prescription, package them in tamper and waterproof specially made packets, and get them delivered through their trusted partners directly to patients' home.

With an increasing number of Homeopathic practitioners in India and recognition of Homeopathy in more than 80 countries, Homeopathy4all services will be very effective and will help many new doctors to start their practice from home without needing to invest in a clinic or inventory.
