

$haun Don: Young Artist From New York Drops New Single 'Shut Up'

New York City, New York Jun 28, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - $haun Don is an on the rise recording artist from Harlem, New York. This year he has been flooding the industry with nothing but hit records such as his newest release “Shut Up”. Although music is his life and passion, it has not always been his focus. It was something that just came to him naturally. His everyday life in the world helped him to channel his own emotions and moods into musical content. Musical pioneers such as Jay-Z, Nas, Sade and Michael Jackson inspired him to format his own written words into songs. Although he gets inspiration from these artists his sound is his own.

$haun Don makes it known to all that he creates music to his own authenticity, as his music does not resemble any other artists out. Recently he has been creating and releasing a ton of content such as his latest single, but he has also released other singles that are also available to stream online. His latest release however is his current focal point. “Shut Up” is a track that speaks on the way individuals change who they are for social media. The track is raw, fun and straight to the point. Currently his focus is to create visuals for the catalog he currently has out. $haun Don is staying consistent with hit records, it’s just a matter of time before his name is all over the world. Be sure to stream his single “Shut Up” available now everywhere.
