

J-Easy is Making Some Big Moves

J-Easy is not letting up.

Columbus, Georgia Jun 28, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - It's been over two years since Jay put out any music and for a while, it seemed that nothing more was coming from J-Easy. Then on April 6th, 2022, Jay posted on Instagram announcing his new single named "Don't Care" featuring TR3 M4NDO & S.A.I received over 3,000 streams on Spotify. Fast forward a few weeks later and Jay releases the cover for his project titled "The Tapes" which would drop on May 27, 2022. Following the reveal of his project, he announced the released party for his project would be on May 25, 2022, hosted at the Sound Factory in Columbus GA. This party included a full showcase of local independent artists in the area to show off all the amazing talent that Columbus has to offer. After the release, Jay received over 10,000 streams on Spotify within the first 2 weeks of it dropping and was added to over 20 playlists.

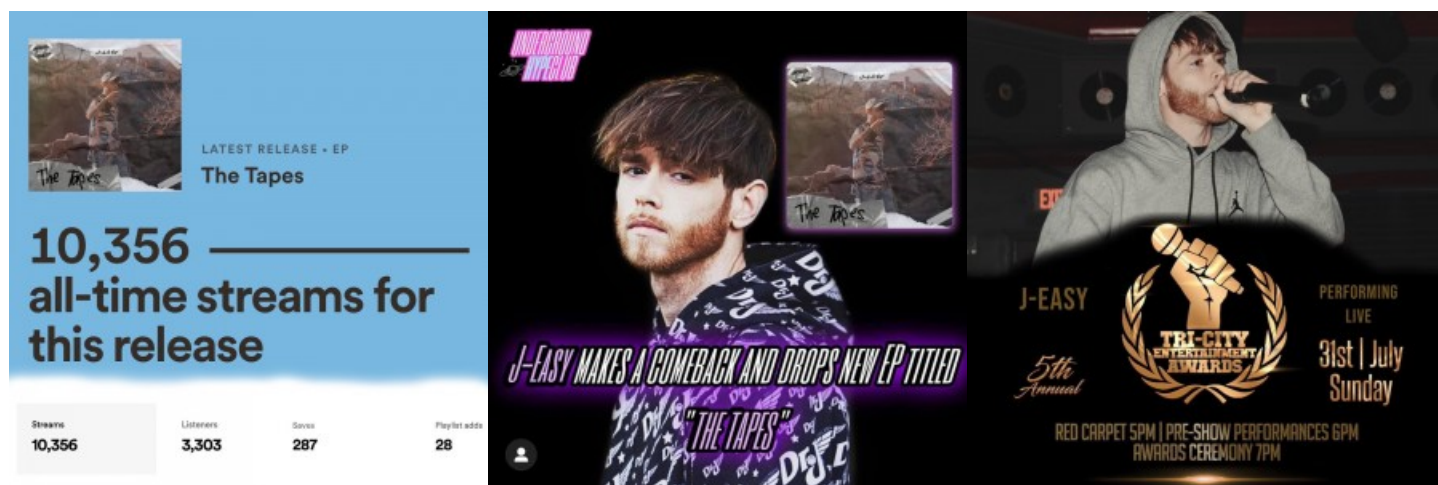

Jay has gained himself the traction of the city and has been nominated for "Male Artist On The Rise" and "Most Underrated Male Artist" at the 5th Annual Tri-City Entertainment Awards With the honor of being able to perform at the pre-show of the awards. This is Jay's first time ever being nominated for anything in his own city and on top of that his studio, JLC Entertainment has also been nominated for "Best Recording Studio of The Year" It seems big things are happening for Jay and the only question now is what next?
