

Leawo Prof. Media for Mac V11.0.3 Updates Roundup: More Output Options are Available for Disc Backup

Not long ago, Leawo Software has unfolded the Prof. Media for Mac V11.0.3 with enhanced functions and optimized workflow, which allows users to back up the disc content under more output options on Mac.

Shenzhen, Guangdong Jun 28, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Leawo Software Co., Ltd: a professional multimedia solution that focuses on media processing and media dissemination, has released a new version of Prof. Media with advanced functions added and bugs fixed.

Being a state-of-art yet comprehensive toolkit, Leawo Prof. Media for Mac V11.0.3 is more apt to manage multimedia tasks: download online videos and music; convert videos, DVDs, and 4K UHD Blu-rays; copy 4K UHD Blu-ray/DVD movies, and remove Cinavia and other protections; burn DVD/Blu-ray from videos and images; edit videos, DVDs, and Blu-rays; play back Blu-ray, DVD and video files, and so on. Here are several major updates in this brand-new version below:

- Added video trimming feature in "Edit > Trim" for lossless output under the Ripper module.
- Optimized to keep 5.1 audio track under Main Movie mode for DVD to DVD backup.
- Optimized to keep chapter info under Main Movie mode for DVD to DVD backup.
- Added 256Kbps and 320Kbps options in "Profile Settings > Audio > Bit Rate(Kbps)" drop-down menu for Convert module.

- Added pop-up prompt for restarting the program after patching.
- Fixed other known bugs.

The tech team from Leawo enriches the output options to save the chapter info or audio track of DVD in this whole new version of Prof. Media for Mac. People can retain the specific elements from the disc, and save the audio of 256Kbps or 320Kbps while performing the output task.
