

OXO Packaging Offering Environmental Packaging in Australia

Sydney, New South Wales Jun 17, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - OXO Packaging - one of the large-scale custom packaging companies based in Australia recently introduced eco-friendly packaging as their most-selling product and explained how important it is for the environment to switch to eco-friendly material and why it is important to switch.

When the CEO was enquired about why switching to Eco-friendly packaging is important, he said “Green is the new black - Witnessing the damage caused to the environment due to the burning of forests across the world recently, We decided to take the lead and make Custom Packaging Australia based on eco-friendly packaging material. Along with the world, we are beholding the damage that is being caused to the environment by the burning of different forests one after one across the world. The only way by which we can help the environment in this difficult time is by reducing the human damage that is caused to it. ”.

Why opt for Eco-friendly Packaging?

At OXO Packaging, The corrugated cardboard, Kraft, cardstock, and many other types of paper-based packaging are rightly regarded as being amongst the most environmentally friendly, biodegradable, and sustainable. Eco-friendly packaging is designed using biodegradable recycled materials, reducing the waste of natural resources in production. In addition, manufacturing processes tend to be more efficient, further reducing valuable resources and minimising the negative impact on the environment.

"We make custom packaging in Australia using eco-friendly packaging material based on fibers which are taken from trees and plants. Since the raw products are taken from natural resources, the final product can be easily recycled or composted causing less to no damage to the environment" said the general manager of OXO Packaging.

What is the Cost difference in Switching to Eco-friendly Packaging?

Eco-friendly packaging is not only suitable for the environment but is pocket-friendly too. The packaging material is very affordable and easily available. Since eco-friendly packaging material is made up of different densities, it doesn't have trouble while being moulded and can be easily moulded in any shape and style neither does it have any size and shape limitations.

Being eco-friendly is the new trend and we want you all to be a trendsetter with us hence use eco-friendly packaging material for all your packaging needs. OXO Packaging provides Custom Candle Packaging Australia made up of eco-friendly material so get a hold of your phone and get in touch with us to order your eco-friendly packaging.
