Sherry Goff, the inventor of the patented PocketBra® commented “We are launching a new effort to address the growing market for a sports bra or bra with pockets. Whether for a phone, keys or other personal items, medical uses like insulin pumps or wearable monitors, the PocketBra® provides a safe, comfortable solution unlike any other.”

When asked about her patents Ms. Goff replied, “I invented PocketBra® in 2011 via SherryWear, LLC. We have an expansive library of patents and have granted SherryWinks, LLC the exclusive right to make and sell pocketed bras. Larger retailers have been informed of these patents and the need for them to get a license to use this intellectual property. We are working with legal professionals to perfect license agreements worldwide. In the meantime, we can offer a manufacturing or marketing license to qualified participants with fashion, sports bra, medical or even wearable technology applications.”

For more information about PocketBra® licensing, email Sherry Goff at sherry@pocketbra.com or call her at 603-714-5899. There are both manufacturing and marketing licenses that can be exclusive or non-exclusive based on the product or marketplace. “Our patents have been reviewed by numerous law firms and we have every confidence that their unique features can be upheld. If you are an infringer with an existing product in the market there may be discount or waiver options available on infringement penalties depending on the situation, and you should call or email to discuss. We want to encourage the proper use of our intellectual property because the benefits for the wearer are great. The more women have access, the better the results are for all,” said Ms. Goff. PocketBra® is an exclusive trademark of SherryWear, LLC.
