

Silver Screen Pictures & Kids in the Spotlight Script-to-Screen youth film program with She Ready, M.A.R.T.Y. and MISLA

Silver Screen Pictures Inc., has launched a program with social impact programs in Los Angeles by assembling a team of industry giants to help students create projects and get paid.

Los Angeles, California Jun 2, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Silver Screen Pictures, Inc., is stepping up to provide Los Angeles youth with access to professional equipment, space, and industry mentors. "Script to Screen" is an exciting partnership between Silverscreen Pictures, The Legacy Arts Connection, K.I.T.S., She Ready, M.A.R.T.Y., and Made In South LA (MISLA) & MAJ Enterprises to prepare underserved foster youth and young adults, living in Los Angeles County, to learn how to write a script, execute it on set, cast, work with actors, direct scenes and more while completing a short film. The 10-week Script-to-Screen Course pairs students with entertainment industry professionals to learn how to write a script, cast real actors, produce a short film, and audition for a role in that screenplay.

Los Angeles foster youth will gain experience in all aspects of film production: script writing, pre-production through post-production, casting, and acting on-camera work. Kids in the Spotlight (KITS), a foster youth arts education program for youth filmmakers and creatives fourteen to twenty-four years old will join youth empowerment leader, MISLA who will assist in executing this groundbreaking partnership.

Legacy Arts Connection, a 501(3)c, is designed to provide participants with opportunities to receive industry exposure and learn to obtain funding for projects. As part of this program, 20 Los Angeles youth will be creating short films with industry veterans with the help of seasoned industry veterans. At the end of the program, each student will premiere their film at a KITS Film Awards event on November 8th, 2022.

Students also have opportunities to practice their interviewing skills and participate in networking events with professionals from major film studios, production companies, and talent agencies. Celebrity supporters & sponsors include Tiffany Haddish and a team of She Ready Foundation, and Bernard Dean of MAJ Enterprises. Classes begin June 1st, 2022. Students can sign up here <https://misla.org/html/bootcamps.html>

“At Silverscreen Pictures, we believe that it's important that the voices of underrepresented communities are heard through the stories they tell. That's why we're excited to announce the launch of our "Script to Screen" Youth Film Program.” - Brian Bolden / Silver Screen Pictures

“The only way we can lead our youth to winning is by disrupting the current narrative, and breaking down the status quo!” - Cassie Betts/MISLA

“You can make an impact for the youth we serve by watching their films on our KITS Channel on IndieFlix!” - Tyge Charity/KITS

“She Ready Foundation was created to inspire, protect and provide resources for youth impacted by foster care.” - Tiffany Haddish / She Ready

###

ABOUT

Silver Screen Pictures, Inc: A full-service production company that specializes in producing feature films, television, and new media with offices in Los Angeles and Toronto.

Legacy Arts Connection: We strive to engage the minds of young people in the Art of media and TV production in African American underserved communities KITS: A Black-led, Los Angeles County-based organization that helps foster youth heal and grow from trauma through the power of storytelling and filmmaking.

MISLA: Made In South LA, provides technology and multimedia boot camps to train underrepresented minorities & low-income individuals as programmers, engineers & digital creatives.

MARTY: Making A Reality That's Yours, a social enterprise/ creative agency with the purpose of providing students with on-the-job training leading to 6-figure careers.

She Ready: An organization that is future-focused on the well-being of youth impacted by foster care.

MAJ Enterprises: A fresh social enterprise entertainment production studio and NFT Media Marketplace for film, T.V, events & Music.

Media Contact

PHX Brand Agency

phx@marty.world

(323) 515-2977

9350 Wilshire Blvd. # 203

Source : Silver Screen Pictures, Inc

See on IssueWire