

Stock Learning Platform FinGrad registers growth amidst bear market

Launched in April 2022, FinGrad has introduced over 50 courses and webinars on its platform within three months of establishment and has partnered with over 25 professional instructors and experts.

Bengaluru, Karnataka Jun 27, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - The financial learning platform, FinGrad, reported growth in its registered user base amidst the bear phase in the stock market industry. FinGrad is a learning initiative by Trade Brains, a Bangalore-based fintech startup that plans to become one stop-learning platform for all financial products.

Launched in April 2022, FinGrad has introduced over 50 courses and webinars on its platform within three months of establishment and has partnered with over 25 professional instructors and experts. They offer contents of Trading, Investing, Mutual Funds, Derivatives, Commodities, and even cryptocurrency. The platform has registered over ten thousand signups as of June and has been rapidly growing in terms of new students and enrollments.

Commenting about the product, Kritesh Abhishek, Founder, and CEO of FinGrad said, “Our reason for launching FinGrad is to impart financial literacy among the Indians. Whether it's a bear market or a bull market, Investors and traders need to be aware of the capital market and should be able to capitalize on the opportunities. With our exclusive courses and webinars, we train the investors and traders on how to respond correctly to different market scenarios and make profitable moves in the financial world.”

“We have been adding new courses and weekly webinars since April on all-around financial products. Our hard goal is to reach and impact over ten million financial aspirants in the next three years and help them make better-investing decisions.”, Kritesh added.

FinGrad is the third financial product launched by Trade Brains. They also offer a stock analytics platform known as Trade Brains Portal and daily stock market news. Their Portal app is one of the highest-rated Stock news and screener app which is available on both Google playstore and Apple store. With FinGrad, Trade Brains is now ready to revolutionize the Financial learning industry in India.
