Today's society has a large number of students and youths. They are talented, active, and even hardworking, but they have no idea what they want to achieve with their lives. Our conversations with a number of kids and young people about their sense of purpose and what career they want to follow as a result of their college subject choices reveal that most of them are just fantasizing or confused, just like we were many years ago. The consequences of this uncertainty about what to study at a higher education institution have driven many people to waste valuable time writing tests and studying courses that do not fit their personalities or general nature, resulting in a frustrating life. Our mission is to empower the youth to take charge of their own lives, by giving them the most accurate advice and helping them find a career they love. Students will have a clear idea of what they want to do with their lives. There will be developed in their mental health along with personality enhancement. Students will receive proper career guidance and coaching, as well as mentorship sessions with industry leaders and toppers. They will also receive assistance with their CV, as well as correct college recommendations, form completion, and a college entrance guide.
Mr. Nakul Maheshwari, The Guiding Bee's Founder words: "Becoming an entrepreneur was my aspiration since childhood. The one thing I consider important to every young mind is the right mentorship of a true mentor who has experienced the ups and downs of life. There are so many career choices today that it is very difficult for a student, as well as their parents and teachers to be updated on the latest developments in various areas.
That's why we found the idea of The Guiding Bee, where we focus on each student and their special need to give an impulse to their career because life is a race and one needs to be ready for each situation. For a student, their career is one of the biggest decisions, we are the bee that brings you the sweet nectar of success.
