

Travel app Planely Featured in “Martha Stewardess ~ Living at 34,000 Feet” Airline Magazine

“Traveling alone? Not any more. Check out Planely Travel app before your next flight” as featured in MarthaStewardess.com an Insider Online Air Travel News Magazine

San Francisco, California Aug 23, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Planely travel app is a free service that makes air travel more fun. Whenever you're traveling by plane, tell us your flight details, and we'll connect you with other Planely Fliers who are on the same flight, or at the same departure or arrival airports as you. You can then make arrangements to sit together on the plane, have a coffee on the ground or share a cab home. Why? Because we believe that your fellow fliers are the greatest untapped resource of knowledge and entertainment on plane journeys.

Tell Planely which flights you're traveling on and Planely will tell you who else is traveling with you on the plane and at your departure and arrival airports. Together we hope to change the airline industry for the better by connecting you with the greatest untapped resource of knowledge and entertainment on your journey — your fellow fliers.

We're creating the opportunity for you to contact passengers with overlapping itineraries ahead of time and make mutual arrangements to sit together on the plane or meet at your departure or arrival airports. Check out more on social media <https://twitter.com/planely> or <https://www.facebook.com/planely>.

About MarthaStewardess.com

Martha Stewardess is a fictional character based in San Francisco, California, Martha is a 'seasoned' Flight Attendant, with more than a few miles under her wings. She lives an exciting and crazy life. "Flying frequently ~ for a living!" ~ Based in beautiful San Francisco, Martha is a well-seasoned Flight Attendant for a major US airline. Although friendly service is an important job requirement, Martha works tirelessly to maintain a safe, stable, and secure environment while hosting hundreds of somewhat unstable, often insecure, and not-always-friendly passengers stuffed inside a metal tube hurtling through space at over 500 mph. Seems like a crazy life huh? It is. It's Martha's life, and she's living it crazy. This is Martha's fifth airline. For her, being a Flight Attendant is not so much a career as it is an addiction. How does she do it? "Like I put on my pantyhose, one leg at a time," said Martha.

View original content:

<https://www.marthastewardess.com/traveling-alone-not-any-more-check-out-planely-before-your-next-flight/> or see "Tips When Flying Alone for the First Time" via YouTube.com

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IA3nPNj-uCg>

Media Contact

MarthaStewardess.com

koxiwac756@iconzap.com

Source : MarthaStewardess.com

See on IssueWire

