

Wyoming Banking Commissioner Goes Web3, Joins Fortress Blockchain Technologies

Las Vegas, Nevada Jun 28, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Fortress Blockchain Technologies revealed today that Albert Forkner, state banking commissioner with the Wyoming Division of Banking, has joined Fortress Trust Company as Chief Executive Officer (CEO). Albert Forkner heads up the regulatory entity powering the Fortress Web3 B2B infrastructure ecosystem.

Fortress provides a suite of API-driven B2B financial, regulatory, and technology solutions to NFT and crypto innovators. These trailblazers are setting up to transform the world, thanks to Web3 initiatives, there is a trusted foundation from which to build their businesses.

Albert explains, "The goal of Fortress Blockchain Technologies is to provide a suite of Web3 infrastructure products and services for NFT and crypto innovators. From the embeddable wallet from Fortress Wallet, or the minting engine from FortressNFT, to payment rails, compliance services, and digital asset custody solutions from Fortress Trust, we exist to support and/or provide solutions for our customers to build extraordinary businesses around NFTs and crypto."

Forkner brings over 20 years of experience as a banking regulator and was heavily involved in the Special Purpose Depository Institution (SPDI) bank charter, the first such framework for digital assets.

Albert continues, "...a lot of things we're working through the state system, through our state legislature. And then my job was to administer the laws that were passed as they dealt with digital assets, and banking, blending the traditional financial services and digital assets together. I spent the last four years doing that and figuring out how to allow and foster innovation, but still, do it in a safe and sound manner."
