

Bradley Laborman announces run for Chicago Mayor

Chicago based Actor and REALTOR® eyes seat as Chicago Mayor.

Chicago, Illinois Nov 15, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Bradley Laborman, Chicago based Actor and REALTOR® has announced his intention to run for Mayor of Chicago in the 2023 election.

In a recent post on his website located at “votelaborman.com” he stated;

“I know this may be unusual because most of the people currently running have wealth, or an agenda for an organization they are with, or simply haven’t done a good job as the current mayor. I figured maybe it’s time for a regular Chicagoan to represent other regular Chicagoans.

My goal is to talk about the things people do not want to talk about, and I know people aren’t going to like that and things will get dirty, but you have to get dirty sometimes to really clean up a mess.

I look forward to meeting you all in person!”

Laborman has also listed several platforms he intends to run on which include, Tackling Homelessness, The Magnificent Mile and Chicago Development in General and Protecting our Citizens. All of these platforms are presented in detail on his website, <https://VoteLaborman.com>

Bio:

Originally from Mount Pleasant, Iowa, Bradley Laborman has been an actor and comedian for over 20 years and most recently began his real estate practice in the Chicago area.

Laborman has been described as fun-loving, outgoing, easy to talk to and down to earth.

A graduate of Buena Vista University in Storm Lake, Iowa, Bradley lived in both NYC and LA prior to settling in the Chicago area. He worked extensively both as on-air talent and in the production of film, TV, and radio, as well as in theater, podcasting and social media marketing before launching his real estate career.

The skills and knowledge gained in his past career and his understanding and insights into big city government help Bradley provide outstanding leadership potential to the city of Chicago. Laborman does not consider himself a politician, he simply considers himself a member of the community who wants to make the community better for everyone.

In his spare time, Bradley enjoys visiting his parents in Iowa and his brother's family in Indiana, especially his four nieces and nephews. He also enjoys singing karaoke, playing racquetball and watching college football games.

He is an avid fan of The University of Iowa Hawkeyes, the Chicago Bears, and the Chicago Cubs.

He has also volunteered and contributed to Luries Children's Hospital, The Harbour, Heifer International, Food4Life Global and Milk&Butter.com.
