

Envios a Peru opens new cargo shipping agency in Miami

Miami, Florida-based cargo shipping company Envios a Peru has announced the opening of a new shipping agency in Miami.

Miami, Florida Jul 20, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - The new office will provide Peruvian exporters with easier access to the U.S. market and will offer freight forwarding, customs brokerage, and other services related to international cargo shipping. Envios a Peru is one of the leading cargo shipping agencies in Latin America and has been providing service to the Peruvian market for over 25 years. This latest expansion into Miami is part of the company's ongoing efforts to better serve its customers and expand its reach into new markets.

Shipping to Peru can be a great way to get your products to customers in a timely and efficient manner. There are many shipping companies that offer service to Peru, and they can provide you with a variety of options to choose from. Shipping via air is the most popular option, as it is fast and relatively inexpensive. Shipping by sea is another option, but it can take longer and is often more expensive. You will need to decide which option is best for your needs, and then compare rates and services from different shipping companies.

Shipping to Peru can be a great way to get your products to customers in a timely and efficient manner. There are many shipping companies that offer service to Peru, and they can provide you with a variety of options to choose from. Shipping via air is the most popular option, as it is fast and relatively inexpensive. Shipping by sea is another option, but it can take longer and is often more expensive. You will need to decide which option is best for your needs, and then compare rates and services from different shipping companies. Shipping to Peru can be a great way to get your products to customers in a timely and efficient manner. There are many shipping companies that offer service to Peru, and they can provide you with a variety

When shipping to Peru, it's important to be familiar with the country's customs regulations. The Peru custom agency is responsible for regulating the import and export of goods, and they have specific requirements that must be followed. For example, all shipments must be declared and may be subject to inspection. In addition, there are restrictions on what can be shipped into the country, so it's important to check the Peru custom agency website for a complete list of prohibited items before you send your shipment. Failure to comply with Peru custom agency regulations can result in delays, fines, or even seizure of your goods, so it's important to be familiar with the rules before you ship.

We are a customs agency in Peru with specialized sections for maritime, aviation, land, and multimodal cargo transportation. CARGO WORLD is a global provider of logistics solutions with high added value. We offer services to brokers, exporters, and importers.

Agents all over the world work together with us, committed to honoring the confidence that our clients place in the company's professional competence with efficiency and responsibility. All of this is made possible by a complete understanding of the laws and regulations governing international business as well as the appropriate paperwork from both the country of origin and the country of destination.

The interests of the customer come first at CARGO WORLD. This experience has taught us that every client has unique needs. As a result, we have focused particularly on offering each of them convenient alternatives with a better quality-price ratio and a more intelligent logistics option, with the goal of minimizing the time, cost, and risk for handling all types of cargo, regardless of the distance or the mode of transport involved.

Our expertise and experience in foreign commerce, when combined with the application of cutting-edge technologies, ensure the provision of reliable and adaptable services in a worldwide setting.

We sincerely invite you to join our list of pleased clients, making us an essential strategic partner for controlling your supply.

Customer expectations are their top priority. They deliver packages within three days if required to deliver them within a week, which helps them win the recipient's loyalty. They offer discounts on courier charges.

Media Contact

Shipping to Peru - Movee Cargo

mcabellos@cargoworldcorp.com

+17867558389

10900 NW 21st St SUITE 240

Source : Movee Cargo

See on IssueWire