

FOREX NEWS Launches Beta Version of Talking-Forex News Service

With FOREX NEWS Live you will soon be able to keep up to date with real time forex news as it breaks!

London, United Kingdom Jul 6, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - FOREX NEWS is the market leader in currency exchange news, and has launched a beta version of Talking-Forex News Service. If you're serious about trading the forex markets, then you know how important it is to keep on top of economic announcements and news events, these can cause dramatic moves in the underlying currencies. It doesn't really matter whether you're trading around specific event-based news or are a longer-term technical trader, it's crucial that you keep your finger on the pulse of the financial world and do not miss any market-moving news.

Until recently, this has been difficult. Most news services mean you have to keep your eyes glued to the scrolling news being displayed on your computer screen and more often than not, you have to sift through all the non-essential headlines to check for relevant information to the FX markets. This simply isn't efficient and means missing important market-moving announcements and updates. So how about the ultimate information portal for FX traders, up to the second audio information, and real-time news on all major economic headline releases and important announcements.

You get real-time audio forex news alerts as they break. This is the same live forex news and commentary service used by professionals. This is a unique service that is the only audio broadcast available that is exclusively for FX traders.

Delivered by highly skilled forex analysts from 6 am till 9 pm London, UK time, Monday to Friday.

These analysts are completely independent and neutral in their opinions. They speak with many of the leading players as well as constantly monitor over 30 independent feeds for potential market-moving information, all so you don't have to! It's not uncommon for these analysts to beat the other news services to market breaking news, alerting their subscribers before anyone else has had a chance to react. Think about that.

Better still, you will get their expert opinion on the impact of that news and what it could mean for the underlying forex rates. Just to be clear, this is not a constant running commentary service, you'll only get announcements and updates as and when necessary throughout the day and specifically relevant to the forex markets.

"Foreign exchange: it's the largest and most liquid market in the world by far, with $4 trillion changing hands daily," said Richard H. Davis, Chairman, and Chief Executive at FOREX NEWS. "Now, more than ever before, currencies are emerging as the everyday investor's weapon of choice in the battle to gain an edge. That's why there has never been a better time to learn FOREX trading from our Talking-Forex News Service," noted Davis.
