

Launching MasterHealthPro - World's first AI powered e-learning platform on Andrology and Men's Health

Holmdel, New Jersey Jul 14, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - MasterHealthPro Inc, the US-based new age e-learning company has launched its first AI-powered platform to deliver curated and evidence-based courses on andrology and men's health for practicing medical professionals and medical grads

The courses are designed and delivered by world-renowned medical experts addressing the ever-growing demands in the fields of Male Infertility, Andrology, Embryology, sexual medicine, psychosexual medicine, and psychosexual techniques. The courses are offered in three levels Masters, Fellowship, and Proficiency covering clinical, surgical, and laboratory procedures.

Commenting on this Mr. Suresh Elangovan, the President and CEO of MasterHealthPro Inc said that the courses have been uniquely designed and delivered as “self-paced courses” and are available from July 15th, 2022. The platform is user-friendly with a mobile app and a host of other features. We are working towards making the whole learning experience intuitive and immersive soon

Dr. S S Vasan, President of South Asian Society for Sexual Medicine (SASSSM) and Programme Director of MasterHealthPro Inc observed that he had taken extreme care in curating the content to make it relevant to the doctors' fraternity. The courses are a perfect fit for general physicians, diabetologists, dermatologists, psychiatrists and sexologists, and final-year medical grads as well to upgrade their skillsets.

Mr. Suresh Elangovan is a seasoned technologist with decades of industry experience in product design, development, and global technology delivery. He is credited with many innovative technology products and solutions that have pioneered the market segment. He is an official member of the Forbes Technology Council

Dr. Vasan is the world-renowned Andrologist with decades of experience who has pioneered the concept of comprehensive andrological diagnosis and treatment approaches especially in male infertility. He had established the center of excellence for advanced andrological treatment benefiting thousands of deserving couples and is a well-known name in South Asia, the middle east, and Africa

The courses are hosted globally on Amazon secured cloud and comply with international standard regulations. Upon completion of the course and after taking the final online assessment, certificates will be issued jointly by MasterHealthPro, Academy for Men's Health, Singapore, and the South Asian Society for Sexual Medicine (SASSSM).
