Writes Her Autobiography

Toronto, Ontario Jul 20, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - HER AUTOBIOGRAPHY

Hasina Knox, a Canadian children's book author, announces her long-awaited autobiography called, "An Orphan's Story: Longing to Belong". This book is an emotional and heartbreaking life story about an orphan who came from an international country and seeks to find what she's been searching for all her life - to truly belong. Inside her autobiography readers will wonder if a name truly matters in this world, if a person can make a name for themselves, where a person truly belongs, and what really happened to this motherless child.

How did she become an orphan, how did she get to Canada and how was she able to make a life for herself? Readers will be able to relate to the same situations, feelings, and emotions one goes through when traumatized and hurt, especially when one becomes abandoned. Hasina is still in the writing stages and will announce it on her Instagram account once it has been published.

CHILDREN'S AUTHOR

As a children's author, she has published 3 children's books within the past year. Her books are a "fun and adventurous way for children to learn to read while exploring their world." They are great educational books for geography or social studies classes in school and for leisure time at home.

Her first children's book is called "A Journey of Flavours" (a journey to the 7 continents and the 7 largest countries around the world which also includes 17 flavourful recipes while learning the days of the week).

Her third children's book is called "A Discovery of Smells" (a discovery of luxury hotels and smelly foods from 12 different countries while learning the months of the year).

When reviewing one of her children's books, different people said, "This is a delightful children's book with a sweet and simple story of four children going on a journey of visiting the seven continents in the seven days of the week, all the while learning about famous dishes from the places they go to. As the title suggests, it is really a journey of flavours because the book is full of colourful real pictures of food items from all seven continents. Parents will definitely love this book as it's an effective, bright, colourful and entertaining way to introduce their children to valuable information and have fun spending time with them reading on this adventure." - Parents.

Another reviewer said: "A Journey of Flavours" is a very captivating and interesting book for my children. It introduces us to the delicious cuisines of the world and learns about the clothing of different cultures. A Journey of Flavours is a well-written and beautifully presented book with a recipe cookbook at the back. These activities boost my children's self-confidence and focus" - said one of the parent readers.
