

Redesigned Educational Aspects- The ‘Next IAS’ Mobile App by AppSquadz

“AppSquadz is an emerging company in the Edtech, Streaming, and Software Industry towards the country's digital transformation. Being AWS Certified Partners, the company is empowering organizations in various sectors.”

Noida, Uttar Pradesh Jul 8, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - The "Next IAS" app has been launched by the Next IAS institute and created by AppSquadz. This application provides learners with a unique view of exam preparations. Learners who prepare for self-study will benefit most significantly from this app. Furthermore, this application is highly preferable for learners based on a unique concept of live doubt sessions and classes.

"Latest technological services and solutions are available globally, and local startups can now drive citizen impact and build a robust brand image using these services from AppSquadz."

The Next IAS application uses world-class CDN (AWS Cloudfront) for a buffer-free online classroom experience. In addition, AppSquadz has integrated a list of AWS services and solutions to the application making it a highly secured and ideal app for educational institutions. The app uses many AWS tools like S3, EC2, Cloud 53, Cloud watch, and certificate manager, delivering an intelligent learning experience to the students. Also, the app becomes a great CMS after these specialized integrations.

Key features of the Next IAS app:

- Live online class
- Test series and course books
- Fastest help and support
- Wide range of study material
- Regular email updates and push notifications

The Next IAS institute is a subsidiary of Made Easy group. The Institute has been a great initiative by the Made Easy group inspired by their belief, "Imparting Education is the biggest Religion." The Next IAS focuses on helping every aspirant develop temperament and strengthen their ability to crack the examination. In addition, the Institute has built a more profound association with its students due to its constant and continuous efforts to guide and mentor every student of the Next IAS family through quality teaching and personalized support throughout the student's journey as a Civil Servant aspirant.
