

XS Worldwide features futuristic booths at the Farnborough International Airshow 2022

Farnborough International Airshow 2022 trade show attracts exhibitors from across the globe.

Farnborough, Hampshire Jul 11, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - XS Worldwide, an exceedingly renowned company in the trade show industry, is thrilled to notify its presence at the Farnborough International Airshow 2022. The show starts on the 18th of July at Farnborough, Hampshire. FIA is known for putting forth innovations in the aerospace and defense industry on a global platform. Physically the event was last held in 2018, before the pandemic, and is now all set to render technical equivalents of leaps in development. FIA will attract more than 80,000 visitors from over 96 countries with 1500 plus exhibitors ready to brandish innovations that will be served along with seamless excitement.

The show does not merely attract visitors and exhibitors; it also offers an unprecedented opportunity to meet and exchange opinions with thought leaders. FIA 2022 will let businesses forge new connections with each other to broaden their horizons.

XS Worldwide is primed to deliver exhibits that will light up the event with their automated luminescence. Taking a cue from augmented reality, virtual reality, and extended reality, the company will produce experiences that will mirror boundless social immersion. By layering transcending experience onto booths, XS Worldwide will viably tweak the look of the exhibits. The company will personify exhibits into an altogether different world while flexing its digital muscles for Kallman and HAL hospitality chalets and the USA Pavilion. By melding mixed realities and snowballing immersion, XS Worldwide is preparing to overlay a digital layer on the exhibits at the show. It is admirable that while the world was locked inside during the pandemic, XS Worldwide kept honing its skills to provide the clients with an ultimate experience. With strategies and their execution, the company is ready to face the upcoming milestones of the digital frontier.

XS Worldwide flaunts its highly professional team, enabling clients to have myriad solutions to their exhibit-related problems. From turnkey exhibits, corporate chalets, sustainable exhibits, experimental marketing, tech-enabled booths, and much more. XS Worldwide keeps the buyer's pocket in mind while creating fantastic booths that breathe life into the brand. Not only are the booths aesthetically pleasing, but they are also everything a client could ask for.

According to the company's spokesperson, "After successfully delivering booths to eight clients from across the globe on an area of 1500 square meters with our European partner Mr. Hanspeter Fähr, CEO of Fair Management, XS Worldwide, feels global in a true sense. It's an honor to work for shows like Eurosatory 2022 and Farnborough International Airshow 2022. We are working endlessly to provide seamless digital experiences to our esteemed clients at FIA 2022. We will ensure our clients can achieve their overarching goals with our ROI and ROE-driven solutions. After completing a quarter-century in the trade show industry, we are confident that our passion for serving exhibits precedes everything else." To offer unparalleled experiential services, XS Worldwide is looking forward to Farnborough International Airshow 2022. For more information, visit <https://xs-worldwide.com>

Media Contact

XS Worldwide

contactus@xs-worldwide.com

0120-4243034

Source : XS Worldwide

See on IssueWire