It is important to assess that the medium of medical transportation weighs heavily on the family both mentally and economically. We realize that in most cases arranging for an efficient medium to shift patients is a trauma to the family but we at Air Ambulance Service in Patna operating for Angel Air Ambulance remain available to keep the family of the patients as calm as possible by keeping them informed about the evacuation process at every step of the way. We offer complete assistance for booking our medical aviation service available for people at a cost-effective budget and with utmost transparency.

Our air ambulances are designed as per the specific needs of the patients and deployed according to the underlying medical condition and state of sufferers. We can disband all the necessary medical advancements according to the requirements and cater to the issues occurring onboard. The air ambulance service provided by Air Ambulance from Patna helps in shifting patients with advanced life support, intensive care, and critical care facilities with enhanced medical care delivered en route to the center of medication. In need of urgent transportation, we provide an appropriately designed medically outfitted aircraft carrier at the service of critical patients.

Angel Air Ambulance Service in Delhi is playing a Vital Role in Saving Lives

The Angel Air Ambulance Services in Delhi helps shift emergency and non-emergency patients with the advanced bed to a bed facility in the presence of skilled and aero-medically certified medical staff to offer complete care to the patients from beginning to end of the journey. We ensure to deliver medication, treatment, and assistance and provide non-delaying and risk-free transportation to the patients. Our skilled crew understands that there are always various things that come up during transport and look after every detail of the evacuation process precisely.

The helpline number of Air Ambulance Service in Delhi remains operational round the clock, and the patients can contact us anytime they wish. Once we got a request for shifting a patient with a cardiac disorder, he was loaded into our medically equipped aircraft with the help of the stretcher and wheelchair. On the way to the medical center, he suddenly started experiencing chest congestion and felt difficulty in breathing. Our medical crew was quick to respond and provided him with oxygen and look after the complication. After a while, he started to feel normal and with the constant assistance of our medical staff he remained stable throughout the journey and we were able to shift him without any further issues.
