

Elite Projex Launches New Website and Showcases Cutting Edge Exhibition Stands

Elite Projex & Events is boutique full-service event management company covering a range of customized event services. They focus on comprehensively managing custom displays, conference, corporate event and tradeshow.

Melbourne, Victoria Sep 1, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Exhibition stand contractor Elite Projex, an exhibition stand design company in Sydney has announced the launch of its new website. The company provides a range of event services to comprehensively manage your custom display, conference, corporate event, and tradeshow. They have experience in display marketing which include consultation and design right through to installation and optional storage. Their new website showcases projects which they have successfully completed as well as details regarding the services which Elite Projex can supply.

Visitors to the new website can easily select from the improved usability and abundance of fresh designs, reflecting Elite Projex exhibition company Sydney's cutting-edge exhibition stands and their flexibility and adaptability. The website exhibits the numerous options available, from portable and modular exhibition stands right through to custom-built exhibition stands. They really can provide an effective solution to suit every marketing requirement and budget. Visitors to the website can request a consultation or ask for more information via the website inquiry form or contact details provided.

Cassandra Oakden, National Event Manager of Elite Projex says, "Every client of ours can be assured that our exhibition stands will provide a great turnover on their investment".

The new website also highlights Elite Projex an exhibition company Sydney, amazing client list which includes Magnattack Global, Arkadia, Ball and Doggett, Chef Works, smalte, Regethermic, and many other companies. They stand firmly by their motto "We deliver what you want when you want, how you want it". This has resulted in them gaining success which has been solely built upon a reputation for continually exceeding their client expectations.

A spokesperson said, "We have such a good reputation in the industry because we are backed by numerous great testimonials".

The new website clearly exhibits our quality of work, which helps to eliminate a risk that our clients feel before they finalize on any exhibition stand design company in Sydney. With our team's wealth of experience and knowledge, we have the exhibition stand industry to help you come up with the best solution suitable for your business.

For the businesses that are looking to organise an excellent point of sale display or design an exhibition stand and are not sure about the options available, visit the Elite Projex website at <https://www.eliteprojex.com.au/> for more information.

About The Company:

Elite Projex, provide a highly professional and branded experience, unlike any other event company. They provide a wide range of event management services to comprehensively manage your custom display, conference, corporate event, and Tradeshow. As a result, all of their clients return to them for all of their projects.

Media Contact

Elite Projex Pty Ltd

events@eliteprojex.com.au

0418444044

75/135 Cardigan Street

Source : Elite Projex Pty Ltd

See on IssueWire