Moscow, Idaho Nov 2, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Beverage Marketing USA and Nautilus Mineral Waters of America are thrilled to announce the introduction of "TATORADE," a revolutionary line of potato-based milk beverages. Richard H. Davis, President and CEO of both companies, proudly revealed that TATORADE Sports Milk will soon be available for health-conscious consumers and athletes alike.

TATORADE is a probiotic, electrolyte-rich sports beverage crafted from the juice of raw Idaho® grown potatoes. Idaho spuds are packed with essential vitamins and minerals that offer numerous health benefits, most notably catalase, a naturally occurring enzyme that enhances athletic performance. This refreshing and invigorating sports milk is produced by a family-owned, USDA-certified organic raw milk dairy farm located near Moscow, Idaho.

Richard H. Davis, the inventor of TATORADE Sports Milk, shared his excitement about the product's potential impact: "TATORADE is designed to provide athletes and active individuals with a natural, nutrient-rich alternative to traditional sports drinks. Our use of Idaho potatoes ensures a high-quality, healthful beverage that supports overall wellness and athletic performance."
