New York City, New York Aug 29, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Terry is a registered nurse who is currently affiliated with Johnson Memorial Hospital & Wythe County Community Hospital, both of which are located in Virginia.

Johnston Memorial Hospital in Abingdon, Virginia., is a not-for-profit, 116-bed modern medical facility dedicated to bringing quality healthcare to the residents of the region. It is equipped to provide individuals with the advanced technology and specialty care they need — right here, close to home.

Wythe County Community Hospital is located off I-81, exit 70, at 600 West Ridge Road in Wytheville, Virginia. It is a 100-bed facility that has earned the Joint Commission's Gold Seal of Approval. In operation since 1972, Wythe County Community Hospital is the only hospital located in Wythe County and provides care to a primary service area of approximately 36,000 individuals including Wythe and Bland counties. It employs over 350 full-time personnel and is staffed by over 80 physicians. The hospital operates under the guidance of a Board of Directors.

Earning her nursing degree from King's College, Terry attributes her success to having deep care and love for others and working with doctors to become better nurses and gain knowledge.

A Registered Nurse (RN) is a nurse who has graduated from a nursing program and met the requirements outlined by a country, state, province, or similar licensing body to obtain a nursing license. RNs fulfill a variety of job duties. In addition to their primary role in treating and caring for patients, their responsibilities also include educating patients and the public about a variety of medical conditions, as well as providing emotional support and advice to the families of their patients. Other RN job functions include leadership, research, performing diagnostic tests and analyzing results, operating medical equipment, administering medications, recording patients' symptoms and medical histories, and assisting with patient rehabilitation and follow-up.
