

Crew Resumes is now LIVE! Keep your resume and profile moving in over 200 English speaking countries

The largest cast and crew database world-wide. Pam Bouvier has been casting all media and entertainment for over 30 years. "Once I moved into Producing, I could see the need for this idea I had 15 years ago".

Studio City, California Sep 12, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Pam Bouvier created Crew Resumes, a worldwide cast and crew database, and is thrilled to announce the launch of its new website, <http://www.crewresumes.com>.

The site features over 400 job titles in all media and entertainment. Developed to make the process easier for hiring producers to find crew. All cast and crew members have a profile webpage developed by industry professionals.

“I have been gathering job titles for over 14 years now,” said FOUNDER Pam Bouvier, a Los Angeles Casting Director. “My hopes are that a producer can find the talent a bit faster and the crew member can be found and hired a bit quicker. The crew members' profile page is in-depth and meant to give the producer everything at their fingertips to review the talent without lengthy research. In addition, the USA or Canada crew member has a personal website for only $15.00 a month, while also being marketed to all studios, production companies, networks, and film commission offices and discoverable worldwide. The recipient does not need to log in or sign up to view the link. Crew Resumes invites visitors to explore the new website.

This new website launch press release template was created by The SMB Guide. International Cast and Crew are free to become a member of Crew Resumes.

About Crew Resumes

Crew Resumes is the largest worldwide Cast and Crew database developed, with over four hundred job titles designed for the hiring producer to find talent quickly. Time is money and people in production move fast. There are no ads, no job boards, and no fancy talk. Your profile is developed and designed to get attention and fit the needs of the producer or studio who needs to hire and replace a crew member fast, or prep for a job in another country. There is no middleman, just the producer searching and your profile page that will be searchable under your country, state, city, media platform, department, and job title.

If you work in both motion pictures and commercials, then you can be found in both. Or maybe you dance, and music videos are your platform, but you also are a personal assistant in the film if given the chance? Do you work in different departments? Do you write and produce? Or act and direct? Are you a seamstress in Idaho who always wanted to work in the movie business but didn't know where to post your resume? Can you travel with a 48-hour notice? If so, Crew Resumes is for you.

Your profile page may be used as your webpage and allows each member to add every skill possible, loaded with information showing multiple contacts, video links, IMDB links, social media links, webpages, agents, managers, attorneys, publicists, genders, bios, multiple resumes, all media platforms, and every the department is known to mankind. Choose from over four hundred job titles in the media and entertainment industry on every single media platform. Leave no question to the wonder, let the producers know what they need to know so they can make a decision fast. <https://crewresumes.com>
