Dental implants are a permanent solution to replace missing teeth. This is a more effective alternative to dentures or bridges, and many clients find this to be more comfortable and satisfactory. At Dakota Valley, Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery P.A., a team of experienced dentists and maxillofacial surgeons help complete the dental implant process. They provide a step-by-step guide for the process as they deem it necessary for the clients to have a clear idea of what they are getting and what will be the likely outcome. Getting dental implants involves a post, an abutment, and an artificial crown replacement tooth. It begins with a tiny titanium post surgically placed into the jawbone where teeth are missing. This metal anchor acts as a tooth root substitute. The bone bonds with the titanium, creating a solid foundation for artificial teeth. An abutment is then placed to allow artificial teeth to be attached to the implant. In the last step, a crown is attached to the abutment to complete the implant.

The best thing about getting dental implants is that they can last a lifetime, provided proper care is taken. This is important, and hence one should be mindful of maintaining proper oral hygiene as well. The dental experts point out that brushing and flossing should be a part of one's regular oral hygiene. The long-term return of dental implants is more than other dental processes. Hence, dentists find them valuable and long-term solutions for replacing missing teeth.
