

Drew Haley - New Song “Hallway”

New Release Sep. 2022

Nashville, Tennessee Sep 20, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Drew Haley – Hallway

Those of you who've followed Drew Haley's career know her stream-of-consciousness songwriting style began very young. Her rural Texas roots certainly merit her ability to prolifically produce a country song but her heartfelt artistry surfaces in her newest single, "Hallway".

Because of Drew's ability to color outside the lines of many genres, Hallway explores a melody of somber loneliness reminiscent of classic rock.

She and producer, David Spencer, followed no rules when tapping into the orchestrated story of lost love transcending from one dreamy melody to another. With minor tones, metaphorical phrasing, and haunting echoes, they pull us into a place of heartbreak and soulful regret all done with Drew's warm sultry vocals and beautiful melodic balance.

As with most songwriters, Drew's lyrics reflect her life challenges and her newest single emerges from a collection inspired by such experiences. This song resonates with everyone whose been left feeling alone to set boundaries for their vulnerabilities.

September 26, 2022, is the release on Sony Orchard, followed by a music video shot outside of Nashville, Tennessee in a historic home in Leiper's Fork. Drew Haley has proven herself again as a gifted songwriter in diversity and beauty as she leads us through the "Hallway" of her heart.

"Hallway" will be available on all digital platforms.
