

Findr Token drops a working Beta of their new app

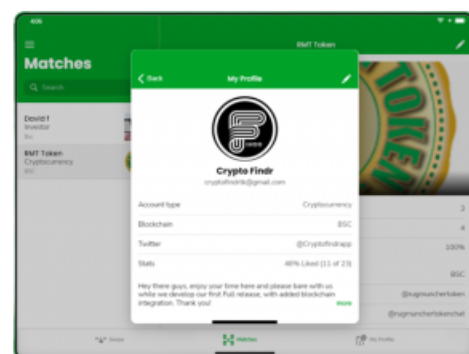

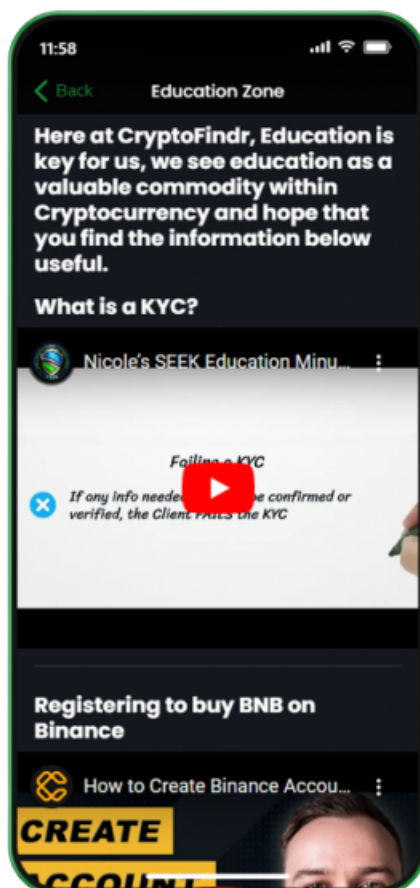

Crypto Findr Beta is now live and being used by Investors & Cryptocurrencies alike

Erith, Kent Sep 4, 2022 (issuewire.com) - Crypto Findr is an app that allows investors and cryptocurrencies to connect via a simple swipe. It's a solution that we see a lot in the App world, with dating companies using the swipe technology to create relationships. Crypto Findr sees their app as much of the same, allowing Investors to find the latest and greatest cryptocurrencies, efficiently & effectively, enabling them to not only find great cryptocurrency projects, they can also speak with the team and ask any questions that they may have before they decide to invest.

Crypto Findr has already found a great partner in Seek Token, who will be providing KYC services for tokens who register on the app and want to show their validity and safety to potential investors. With there being a major problem with scams and rug pulls in cryptocurrency, projects must follow the correct channels and KYC themselves with a safe and reputable company.

It's the early days for CryptoFindr, with the team taking their time to bring their product to market before any other plans are discussed, but something is certain. Their app may just be that missing link that brings in outside investors to the cryptocurrency space.
