

How Delhi-based tech startup Lagyan is helping vloggers in India

Lagyan allows you to watch videos, share stories, get answers to your questions, read news and more.

New Delhi, Delhi Sep 30, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Lagyan is an Indian social media platform. It recently introduced a new logo. It initially started in 2020 as an e-learning platform but got transformed into a social media website. It allows users to add YouTube videos or upload their own videos. Users can share a blog on anything that can be a useful resource for other users. The platform also updates unbiased important news regularly and is featured on Google News.

Chaitanya Chawla, an IT graduate from Amity University Noida, founded the platform. Additionally, he is the holder of numerous academic honours that he won during his college career. Adding domestic value to the social media sector was the key motivation behind Chaitanya's introduction of this platform. His main objective in establishing this platform is to spread Lagyan's fame throughout the world, not just in India. He hopes to contribute to the Make-in-India boom, which has great promise in the age of vlogging.

Users can make short or long videos, depending on their tastes. They can make videos about subjects that will make the audience happy. Show them amazing adventures, tourist cultures, new ideas, inventions, or anything else that they might like. Users can join the platform for free!
