

Leading Anaheim Contractor Expands Services to Offer Industrial and Commercial Warehouse Lighting Solutions

CellTech, the leading full-service wireless camouflage company, has announced its expansion with industrial and commercial warehouse lighting solutions.

Anaheim, California Sep 13, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - CellTech is well-known for providing expert concealment and electrical services to the wireless industry. Now, it is expanding its services to include industrial and commercial warehouse lighting solutions. This additional service builds on the company's reputation for delivering high-quality results to provide industrial and commercial clients with hassle-free lighting solutions.

"Safety and productivity are essential components of a successful workplace," said CellTech's CEO, Esteban DuPont. "Ensuring warehouses are properly-lit and that blind spots are reduced is vital to minimize the chances of an accident and to ensure employees can work productively."

Reducing costs and increasing energy efficiency are two crucial considerations for businesses. To help with this, CellTech offers an initial consultation and free quote to assess the business's lighting needs. CellTech then provides new and retrofitted lighting installations for companies designed to provide cost and energy savings.

"When you need to install or upgrade the lighting in a warehouse or other commercial space, you need to consider how many fixtures you will need, where any potential blind spots will be within your warehouse's current layout, and will you be able to customize that layout in the future," said DuPont. "You also need to consider how far each fixture should be from each other and how bright each light should be. It's a much more complicated and strategic process to make sure that the property is well-lit."

CellTech's industrial and commercial lighting solutions include initial installations, retrofitting, lighting maintenance, outdoor lighting and security, and lighting surveys to assess lighting needs and improve existing lighting installations.

CellTech has been a full-service construction firm since 2006 and continues to expand its services, tailoring them to the needs of its clients. This latest expansion into industrial and commercial lighting is the latest step toward helping businesses throughout California and the southwest with any of their electrical needs.

###

About CellTech: Since 2006, CellTech™ has been an Anaheim-based, full-service electrical and general contractor company, specializing in providing wireless concealment services, EV charging installations and maintenance, and industrial and commercial electrical services. Our experienced team of certified technicians enables us to work with industry leaders and provide unique services that are tailored to our client's needs. We are dedicated associates who pride ourselves on going above and beyond for our clients to create trust.

Media Contact

Kaitilin Gross

kaitilin@celltechinc.us

3523635227

2805 W. Bella Court

Source : CellTech Wireless

See on IssueWire