Center, serving as Division Chief.

St. Joseph's University Medical Center is a member of St. Joseph's Health. Located in Paterson, New Jersey, St. Joseph's University Medical Center, which includes St. Joseph's Children's Hospital, is a major academic medical center and state-designated trauma center that cares for the most complex and routine cases.

St. Joseph's Wayne Medical Center, a division of St. Joseph's University Medical Center and a member of St. Joseph's Health, is a 229-bed acute-care community hospital that provides comprehensive medical and surgical care, emergency, and diagnostic services to the residents of Wayne and communities in northern New Jersey. It is sponsored by the Sisters of Charity of Saint Elizabeth.

Before embarking on his professional journey, Dr. Solis graduated with his medical degree from St George's University School of Medicine in 1988. He then went on to perform his internship in internal medicine, residency in internal medicine, and fellowship in pulmonary disease at St. Joseph's University Medical Center. He also completed an additional fellowship in critical care medicine at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey in 1994.

With an unwavering commitment to his specialty, the doctor is board-certified in pulmonary disease and critical care medicine by the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM). The ABIM is a physician-led, non-profit, independent evaluation organization driven by doctors who want to achieve higher standards for better care in a rapidly changing world.

Pulmonology is a medical specialty that deals with diseases involving the respiratory tract. A pulmonologist is an internal medicine physician who specializes in preventing, diagnosing, and treating conditions and diseases that affect the lungs, bronchial tubes, and the respiratory system, including the nose, pharynx, and throat.

Among Dr. Solis' various accolades include Compassionate Doctor Recognition (2017, 2016, 2015, 2013) and the Patients' Choice Award (2017, 2016).

On a more personal note, he speaks both English and Spanish.
