

True Essence of Modern-Day's Hard Rock Music is Visible in Dante's View's Single 'Just Another Guy'

Rising players of the global music industry, Dante's View has released a new and fresh single 'Just Another Guy' that is captivating listeners.

Alameda, Sep 5, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Musically uplifting and introspective song, 'Just Another Guy' by Dante's View is one of the finest examples of modern-day hard rock music. This highly engaging song creates a pleasant experience for the listeners. The song's composition is praiseworthy as it is highly energetic, incorporating beats and heavy bass along with electrifying guitar throughout the song. The song was mixed by Rachel Alina, and was mastered by Sean Magee at Abbey Road Studios in London, England.

The song is also the group's most streamed track on musical platforms to date. Listeners from all over the world have been appreciative of the group and this track because it is carrying the banner of hard rock in modern times. This new and promising group is made up of JL "Pepe" Espada, a multi-instrumentalist and producer based in Northern California, and Stacy James, a guitarist, and songwriter based in Southern California. Together, they have created a new voice that carries on the tradition of Desert Rock, but with a modern twist.

Besides the electrifying production and mix of the track, the lyrics are deep, introspective and quirky, and it provides an instant connection with the listener. They are reflective of the real world, while still giving a sense of uniqueness to the music, and are perfectly complemented by the vocal performance. Prior releases by the duo include 'Rattler's Plight', 'Face The Grind', 'Cast in Stone', 'America's Mess', all released under the label Boneyard Records. The group's whole discography is available on Spotify and you can follow them on Facebook and Instagram for future updates.
