

VORZ Metaverse is The TikTok Killer!

A Web3 Social Research Finance

Metropolitan Manila Area, Philippines Sep 25, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - The TikTok Killer is one of the meme metaverses from the SocialReFi of the VORZ Protocol that has started from the scrutiny of FCC toward TikTok's national security issues and its dangerous challenges. It sparked the rise of new alternatives such as the Vorz metaverse killer app. A chance and key marketing factor for the Vorz Community because of the FCC allegations when the data privacy breach of the CCP-owned TikTok against US citizens becomes a threat. People will be needing a new alternative if TikTok gets banned soon. The Vorz development started here to fill the void in case it will happen earlier. An opening and a good opportunity for the Vorz movement project to be recognized as a better Web3 Polygon-powered alternative. VORZ Protocol is powered by its cryptocurrency VORZ token to advance its mission and vision by harnessing the power of the community. The idea was also inspired by the astounding success of Ryoshi Research, the founder of the meme token Shiba Inu, which he touted as the Dogecoin Killer. It works!

After some years of peaceful existence, TikTok the app by Beijing-backed Bytedance was again flooded by US paranoia over the fact that it is owned by its rival China. Back in June 2022, Brendan Carr asked Google and Apple to remove TikTok from their platforms and Australia is also trying to ban TikTok for its potential spying purposes. In 2020 former President Donald Trump issued a ban on TikTok if it hadn't sold the app to an American company. It started with the National Security issue because it was owned by China's political power CCP and India banned it for the same reason. Donald Trump failed to ban TikTok because some American TikTok influencers who relied on TikTok for a living fought it in court and won.

Vorz app can emerge as one of the best alternatives indeed when the FCC banned TikTok because of its dangerous toxic challenges cited by the FCC commissioner Brendan Carr. Challenges such as Eating Insulation, Eating Tide Pods, Crate Challenge, Skull Breaker, Nyquil Chicken, Penny Challenge, Bathroom Challenge, etc are dangerous indeed. The Ban on TikTok will be imminent before more children get harmed or lose their life from the danger of those dangerous challenges.

There are a lot of alternatives today and the Vorz app is one of the front runners emerging from Web3. Vorz is an alternative entertainment video app from the Philippines that is scaling on the L2 Polygon Chain to take the challenge of replacing its rival TikTok in the Philippines. A hybrid of both Web2 and Web3 technology that was focused on the development of its community-powered Protocol VORZ. The Vorz app will have its own NFT Marketplace and a Shopping mall for everyone in the next development. The idea is to give back the power that is held by the government and giant companies to the people. In Vorz, users can own their content via NFT minting and earn 100% of its gifted tokens without any cut from the VORZ Protocol. The token which users earned can grow up to 1000% and above when the Vorz market grows as well, as content creators can now earn higher with Vorz than any of the competition entertainment video app platforms out there.

Thanks to the power of Blockchain and Smart Contract Protocols it is now logically possible to build that very metaverse idea. The evolution of social apps will now be owned by the community and maintained by the developers. Vorz development will follow the same pattern from the Bitcoin Core's ecosystem idea to make it an ultimate semi-decentralized driven economy for everyone. One of the developers from Vorz also tweeted an idea to make sure that a safety algorithm will be developed and deployed soon to maximize the safety of children and all of its user-base age in the Vorz entertainment app. To make that happen, the TikTok Killer project Vorz also partnered with Polygon Studios from the branch of Polygon MATIC itself to push the Polygon-powered TikTok Killer Vorz. The Vorz Community will play an important role here as the backbone of the project. It is the key to making that happen and manifesting it in the future together with its VORZ ARMY. Will Vorz Kill TikTok?

Will Semi-Decentralized Works?
