About Kia Marie

Kia Marie is the founder of the Career Association of Georgia, Inc, a 501c3 School of Business that hires start-ups delegated to 6 for-profit companies built as the cornerstone for startups to learn to build out its infrastructure through applied business coaching principles taught to their hired startups.

She resigned from her 9-5 job in 2019 and built the School of Business infrastructure from scratch as a broke beautiful lady with no money to buy fancy systems and used systems that offered products using the freemium strategy as a demonstration to startups that you can scale a business using no money, no credit line, no loan all while experiencing moments of homelessness for Vision.

Although positioned in an unfavorable situation for years, her journey broke her and rebuilt the character that makes her trustworthy to do business with, made her very resourceful in up-to-date technologies and strategies, gained the endurance to keep pushing, and compassionate to those with drive who's been rejected, and most importantly developed a strong relationship with God who gave direction and kept the vision alive within her through a series of dreams.

She is an advocate of education and self-taught education for startups to scale through Mergers and Acquisitions using $0 dollars out-of-pocket methods. She is a U.S. Small Business Association Mentor, holds a degree in Human Services, is Entrepreneurship and Small Business Certified, and is Financial Services Professional Certified.

She's the Bravest of the Brave!
